ASSESS & PROGRESS

HUMAN THREAT ASSESSMENTS

You can't stop a threat if you can't identify the threat!

We've studied over 80 years of mass murderers in our communities, schools, and cities. The one thing that they all have in common is that as they progress down the Path to Violence they all give off the same recognizable indicators of danger.

Nothing is more important than understanding how to utilize the Path to Violence to spot the mass shooter or you'll waste your time with those who are not a threat and miss the ones who really are a threat!

Participants will learn how to...

1. How to spot those on the Path to Violence.
2. Identify what stage a person is on The Path to Violence.
3. Making a 'snapshot' assessment.
4. Conduct comprehensive human threat assessments.
5. Assess, intervene, and manage a dangerous person.
6. Quickly assess a person's current risk level with easy to utilize techniques and supplied worksheets.
7. Accurately distinguish threatening from non-threatening behaviors.
8. Spot indicators of a person's willingness to use violence.
9. Identify behaviors that indicate an attack is imminent.
10. Effectively mitigate and control a dangerous person.
11. Implement intervention techniques to prevent an attack.
12. Calculating the potential risk level for future violence.
13. De-escalate dangerous situations.
14. Address the issue publicly without creating more anxiety.
15. Prevent stigmatizing students and alienating parents.
16. Dispelling the myths that hold us back from preventing violence.
17. Protect yourself against civil liability.
18. Guide your community to respond quickly and appropriately.
